138 -66 GREAT EXCITEMENT.

The excitement which accompanied the taking of the fourth and last ballot had not been approached before during the convention. Delegation after delegation cast heavy votes for Pond and when the first half of the roll call was completed Pond's nomination call was completed Pond's nomination seemed assured.

When San Francisco was reached Pond was given 141 votes, almost the full strength of the delegation, and the convention was thrown into a perfect uproar. The call progressed as rapidly as possible, but, owing to the great confusion and excitement, the secretary was scarcely able to hear and record votes.

When Sonoma county was reached there was no longer any doubt of Pond's nomination. The chairman of that delegation announced eighteen solid votes for Pond and the excitement broke out afresh. Almost every man in the convention hall was on his feet and the building rang with cheers and shouts.

The red, white and blue shields, which were used to mark the seats of which were used to mark the seats of different delegations, were torn from their fastenings and waived in the air. The last few counties on the list gave almost their entire strength to Pond, and when the result was announced there was another outbreak. The band played the national air, and no only the delegates, but also the spec-tators in the hall, cheered for several minutes.

In the midst of the excitement E. B. Pond stepped on the platform and made a short address. His appearance called forth a repetition of the same scenes of enthusiasm. Pond's remarks were brief. He thanked the convention heartily for the honor conferred upon him and promised to do all in his power to win and carry out the provisions of the platform. His nomination was then made unanimous, amid cheers.

Stringency in the New York Money Market.

Borrowers Glad to Renew Loans at 20 Per Cent.

The Rate Afterward Raised to 1-4 Per Cent Per Day.

A Bad Break Prevented by Timely Action by the Treasury Department at Wash-

By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21.—[By the Associated Press.] The stringency in the money market today was sharper than it has ever been since the May panic of 1874. At the opening of the Stock Exchange brokers who were long on stocks and had borrowed money on them were glad to renew their loans at 20 per cent. Even this rate would not bring a renewal of the loan in many cases and before 11 o'clock many borrowers received notice that their loans were called in. The brokers who bought stocks yesterday in anticipation of relief from the Treasury Department tried to obtain funds to pay for their purchases, but were unable to do so and the combined demand caused a money post in the Exchange all day. Every loan was made at 25 per cent, but the supply at this figure was soon exhausted and the rates moved up to 40, 50, 60, 70, 80 and 90. Before 1 o'clock the prevailing rate was 98 per cent, or equal to a legal interest and premium of ‡ per cent per day. large crowd to remain around the

After 1 p. m. the rate advanced to † per cent. a day and legal interest, or 190 per cent. per annum. The crowd of brokers trying to borrow money continues to increase.

In the last hour telegrams from Washington to the effect that the Treasury officials had decided to take measures to relieve the stringency caused an easier feeling. The high rates for money rapidly dwindled away, too, when a fresh supply of funds came in from Sterling exchange bills. bills.

GOVERNMENT ACTION ANTICIPATED. GOVERNMENT ACTION ANTICIPATED.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—In view of the light response to the Trensury Department circular for redemption of 4½ per cent. bonds it is expected that the department will take further steps for the relief of the money market. It is not known exactly what form this action will take, built is supposed it will be an increase in the price of bonds.

Relief Measures at Washington.
Washington, Aug. 21.—The Director of the mint today authorized the superintendent of the Mint at Philasuperintendent of the Mint at Philadelphia to make advances on silver bars as soon as received, in order to relieve the stringency of the New York money market. The Treasury Department this evening issued a circular providing for the redemption before September 1st, $20,000,000 of 4½ per cent. bonds at par, and will, after September 1st, profier to owners of bonds at received all interest on the same bonds to and including August 31st, 1891, without rebate or interest. The circular of August 19th, is hereby rescinded.

and the prospects ahead, Mr. Leiong said:
"This is undoubtedly the most pros-perous horticultural season that Cali-fornia has ever seen. In many dis-tricts north all deciduous trees budded and peach roots suffered in consequence of the surplus rain last winter, which soured the earth and killed the roots. But altogether, crops run remarkably good and prices beyond precedent?

The northern citrus belt, Mr. Lelong thinks, will produce oranges for ship-ment the coming season. There will probably be between two and three carloads, the first shipped from that section. The police authorities are fully cognizant of the existing state of affairs, but are powerless to do anything in the matter, as the Supreme Court of the State has declared that playing poker is not gambling, in the true sense of the word, but that it is a game of science and skill. A number of arrests have been made, but in every case the persons were acquitted, and

Williams, G. F. Kernaghan, H. H. Rose, L. Blankenhorn, Judge Vanderlip and the speaker were appointed a committee to meet with the Los Angeles Republicans. He stated that while the people of Pasadena do not insist upon Los Angeles giving way in the matter of tendering Col. Markham his first reception, yat, they feel, inasmuch as Pasadena is his home, they should be given the first opportunity to welcome home the man for whom every one, including the women and children, are shouting, and asked that Los Angeles not only give way but unite in a grand reception on Friday evening at Pasadena. "We invite you all to come, and we in turn will all be present and join you in a grand ratification at any time you see fit."

Mayor Hazard was of the opinion that if the Republicans of Pasadena feel that way, the Republicans of Los Angeles should go there. It is the home of the next Governor of Californome of the next Governor of Califor-nia, and it is nothing but right and just that his neighbors should have the honor of first tendering him a recep-tion.

The steamer Santa Rosa arrived at Santa Barbara yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock with Col. and Mrs. Markham on board, under the escort of Senator E. H. Heacock and Judge Charles Fernald. The steamer was met at the wharf by fully 1500 people with a band, and a reception committee composed of Mayor P. J. Barber, W. H. Nixon, Edward Ivison, W. G.

Kinsell and Judge W. T. Nichols. After music by the band, Col. Markham, accompanied by Senator Heacock, appeared on the deck of the steamer. Col. Markham was greeted with a hearty round of applause, and when quiet was restored. Senator Heacock, in a few well-chosen remarks, introduced him as the next Governor of California, which called forth renewed cheers. Col. Markham then delivered a brief speech, thanking the citizens for their cordial welcome, and said he was going to the Arlington, where he would remain for four hours, and would be glad to see all who honored him by calling. A line of carriages was then formed, with Col. and Mrs. Markham and Judge and Mrs. Nicholls in the front carriage, and the procession moved to the Arlington, where an informal reception was held, Col. Markham shaking hands with all who presented themselves.

Colonel Markham left Santa Barbara last night at 8 o'Glock and will arrive at San Pedro this morning, where he will probably be m-t by a delegation and escorted to Pasadena, where he will hold a public reception tonight, Fifth Annual Tournament to Com-mence Monday.

Secretary Lindsay of the Southern California Lawn Tennis Association, writes THE TIMES as follows:

writes THE TIMES as follows:

The fifth annual tournament commencing on Monday next at Santa Monica promises to eclipse all previous efforts of the Association both in the number of entries and list of prizes. At one time it was thought that the tournament recently held on the new grounds at Redondo Beach might seriously effect the annual tournament at Santa Moulea, but the contrary seems to be the case, greater interest than ever being manifested among the players, which may be accounted for by the number of younger players who have come to the front this year and the exceptionally brilliant form shown by the ladies at San Pedro. Santa Monica now is looked upon to reverse or confirm these results as the case may be, giving promise of an exciting struggie in the all-comers' singles and ladies.

gie in the all-comers' singles and ladies singles.

No pains have been spared to make the coming tournament a success, as will be seen by the prize list, which surpasses any previous ones given by the association. For this the association has in a great measure to thank the residents of S nita Monica who now seem to be fully alive to the fact that they have in Redondo Be ch a serious rival, and that unless some extra effort is made to have everything in first-class order for holding a tournament at Sant. Monica, the association is not unlikely to change the scene of its annual battle ground.

Mesers, G. L. Waring, W. H. Young and R. H. Lindsay have the management of the tournament.

Play will begin on Monday at 11 a. m. and each succeeding day at 9 a. m. The following clubs will send representatives to compete in the several events: Los Angeles, Riverside, Passdena, Arcadia and Santa Monica Clubs of Santa Monica.

and his principal energies were devoted to an agricultural paper—The Farmer and Dealer—published at San Francisco in the name of his sixteen-year-old son, but which he really edited and managed himself. Mr. Rice used the office of the Board of Horticulture for his editorial work and not only "struck" people for subscriptions when they came in to transact business with him officially, but managed to get the impression out that his paper was the organ of the Board.

Under this diversion of his energies, the real business of his office languished. He had in his pos ession for revision papers on horticulture which had been pigeon-holed by him a year. The work of the office in distributing gratuitous printed matter for the benefit shorticulture which

BOARD OF HEALTH.

An Important Meeting Held Last Night.

THE CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

Health Officer MacGowan's Report on the Citizens' Company's Ditch-Immediate Rellef Demanded.

Last night at 8 o'clock the Board of Health met in the Mayor's office for the purpose of attending to regular business and also to hear the report of committees on the condition of the water ditch along the banks of the Los Angeles River through the Los Felis ranch. There were several members of the Citizens' Water Committee present, and they took an active part in the meeting. Several gentlemen stated, before the meeting was called to order, in an informal way, that the water from the Citizens' Water Com-pany's Works is worse this year than

On motion, Dr. Hagan took the chair and Clerk Robinson read the minutes of the last meeting, which were ap-

Mayor Hazard explained that the strip of land was not deeded to the city, but the city was deeded a perpetual right of way over a strip of fifty feet.

Mr. Wells of the Citizens' Committee Mr. Wells of the Citizens' Committee stated that he and Mr. Sheward spent a whole day on the ditch trying to ascertain how immediate relief may be reached. He believes that three miles of fence will be needed for the open portion of the ditch and the drainage water can be carried either over or under the ditch. This will not protect the ditch against ducks and dogs, but their owners can be dealt with.

men. If the people are compelled to put in private filters it will cost them $20,000. The people on the hills are frightfully abused by the Citizens' soned every time they take a drink of anything as strong as water. He asked the Board to give the committee a change to go before the Council and say that the Board indorses the statements made by the committee regarding the condition of the ditch.

Mr. Burdette thought Mr. Griffith should be notlifed to remove his cattle pens and keep his ducks and geese away from the ditch.

The Mayor is strongly in favor of piping the ditch as soon as possible. It must be piped at the expense of the city.

piping the ditch as soon as possible. It must be piped at the expense of the city.

Dr. Kurtz moved that the Health Officer be instructed to notify Mr. Griffith and others that they are maintaining a nuisance and that they must remove their cattle from places where they are contaminating the water. And also to notify the water company that the ditch is in a filthy condition and that the water is unfit for domestic purposes; and that the Council be asked to take steps to have the ditch cleaned. The motion was carried.

The Mayor offered the following, which was adopted:

Resolved, that the condition of the water supplied to the citizens by the Citizens' Water Company is such as to demand of the authorities of the city immediate attention, that permanent relief may be afforded in improving the quality furnished by, said company, and the Council is asked to take immediate steps,

Mr. Wells thanked the Board for what was done at the meeting. He thought that a big step forward has been taken.

On motion of Dr. Kurtz, the report of the Health Officer was received and approved.

The Health Officer asked for instruc-

Some of the delegates have returned from Sacramento and are cordially greeted by all Republicans, receiving thanks and commendations for the good work done at the convention and the remarkably good ticket presented. I was Sergeant-at-Arms of the first State Republican Convention ever held in the State. I was delegate to the convention of 1860 that nominated Stanford, and have been a worker ever since. But I do not remember a ticket that was made up of such perfect timfilters cost a large sum of money and that is probably the reason more have not been put in.

The Health Officer then read the deed of G. J. Griffith to the city granting the city the ditch and the water rights. "As far as the Board of Health is concerned," said Dr.MacGowan, "I think it is our duty to condemn it. It is not safe for persons to live within 100 yards of the ditch. The ditch should be fenced in. The true remedy is to pipe the water all the way down, but I do not know how that can be done. It is the duty of the Council to take the matter up. After examining the ditch as I have I shall feel it my duty to condemn the ditch. The cause for disease is there and when the first rain comes the city feels it."

Dr. Kurtz thought the Council should be asked to appoint a man to patrol the ditch and impound cattle and animals that are found on the line of the ditch. The city owns fifty feet of land which was deeded to it by G. J. Griffith.

Mayor Hazard explained that the

Mr. Sheward stated he came to the meeting thoroughly prejudiced against Dr. MagGowan, but the doctor's statement was so fair that he had changed his mind. "As far as he has gone he states the truth about the ditch. But he does not go haif far enough." And the speaker proceeded to show that hundreds of head of cattle and horses and ducks and geese are in the water daily and the ditch is lined with manure and filth. When he asked the people who live along the ditch if they drink the water they simply laughed at him. He gave a horrible description of the condition of the ditch. He found one place where a lot of Chinamen wash their filthy clothes in the ditch. The speaker thinks the ditch should be appointed to kill the geese and ducks and Chinamen. If the people are compelled to put in private filters it will cost them $20,000. The people on the hills are frightfully abused by the Citizens' Water Company.

Dr. MagGowan, the ditch is lined in his arms for a few minutes.

He stated that he will not make another attempt to get away with the baby, but Mrs. Martin is uneasy and the asked to have a guard placed over the house last night. large increase in numbers was a postive proof that the teachers were waking up to the importance of sustaining such a step.

The work of this year was laid out in two courses, professional and academic, of three and six weeks respectively. The corps of instructors consisted of five teachers, those who had attained prominence in their work, not only on this side of the Rocky Mountains but even to the Atlantic shores. Among them was Prof. John Dickinson of the University of Southern California. When one can set at the feet of such an instructor he may well feel, whether in the pursuit of science terrestrial or celestial, that he is drinking from a supply that is wellingh inexhaustible.

We teachers, especially those of us who have been in the field, a decade of more, need to come in contact with such a professional man as Supt. Monroe of Pasadena. His work is so systematic and clearly outlined that one goes from the lecture-room imbued with the power to do.

If the counties represented in the institute do not produce more and better singers the coming year it will not be the fault of Mrs. J. Powell Rice. Her system is so clear and tanging the that it was the verdict of all even we ancient ones, that singing is possible for the many.

She has the faculty of taking the best from all sources and so combining it as to make her teaching very effective.

best from all sources and so combining it as to make her teaching very effective.

The fine elocutionary work that was given us by Mrs. Plummer ought to bear fruit for the coming year in our schools. Let us see that it does.

Last March in the County Institute our superintendent endeavored to have some instruction given in the "how" of drawing teachers.

Tyou want the practical work, with either clay or pencil, come to the summer school and avail yourselves of the able teaching given by Miss Pratt.

The social part of our intercourse was most enjoyable. The all-work-and-no-play plan was not followed here. Prof. Brown very kindly manufactured various gases for our benefit, and with the chemicals known as socials, pionics, receptions, lectures, etc. our supply of that article never ran short. Right here, I would like to add a suggestion made by many teachers present. Would it not be possible to induce such men as Prof. Brown and Prof. Dickinson to give us a cours, of the country of the country of the truts. Surely, this suggestion is an outgrowth of the summer school, for here we have come in contact with minds that have stirred within us all the desire for a broader foundation.

Taking it all in all, our school has been a grand success. Not believing a few should derive all the benefit, I take this opportunity to urge all who possibly can to see to it that their names

A Season of Pleasure and Profit to Those Who Attended the Sessions-Some of the Special Features.

One year ago, through the persevering and untiring efforts of Prof. Rowell and Dr. A. W. Plummer, a summer school was opened at Santa Monica. The aim was to give the teachers of Southern California a chance for professional training. Only a few ("we were seven") responded to the invitation that had been sent forth. Notwithstanding the lack of appreciation, our progressive leaders were bent upon giving it a fair trial. When the large increase in numbers was a pos-

Readings From Kipling.

(Boston Herall.)

I wonder that some of our readers, Mrs. Erving Winslow, for instance, do not add Rudyard Kipling's stories to their catalogue of dramatic selections. Mrs. Winslow has succeeded so well with Ibsen, why doesn't she try giving Kipling, whose original style savors much of the stage—his stories being most dramatic in construction, if not tragic in ending. Not all could be read, but if Ibsen, why not another, who calls a spade by its name, and who has the added merit of appealing to a larger class than the debatable Norwegian. At all events in the days when noveity is so desired, this new star in English fiction might shine as a guiding light, if not in public halls, at least in drawing rooms, where reading and other gentle entertainments flourish most.

A Boston Park.

[San Francisco Chronicle.]

The city of Boston has recently paid $5,000,000 for 400 acres of land to convert into a public park, and, to aid in the improvement, the United States Government has given the city the right to beautify its property so as to make it a part of the people's pleasure grounds, and the Marine Park is already in use in that way.

This fact has been cited as establishing a precedent of which the city of San Francisco should not be slow to avail itself.

JOHN P. IRISH has received the nom ination for Congress on the Democratic ticket of the Third District.

Pond needed all his country's strength to give him the nomination. From counties containing the three largest cities in the State-San Fran cisco, Los Angeles and Alameda-he received only forty-one votes.

THE Markham flower-a blood-red rose—is now the recognized emblem of the Republican party in California during the present campaign. It is a flower peculiar to the State, which flourishes in every variety of soil: from that which nourishes the tall pines of Siskiyou to the warm sandy-loam in which luxuriate the olive orchards of San Diego. It is a late autumn rose which commenced to bud this month and will be in full bloom next Novem Every patriotic Californian should get a specimen and wear it.

THE San Francisco Examiner is very bitter against Hon. Stephen M. White because he has Senatorial aspirations The real owner of the Examiner is Senator Hearst. Senator Hearst is currently reported to hanker after re election, when his term is up. In order to attain this object, he is said to have entered into an arrangement with the present Republican Senator from California, based upon mutual conces sions and support-"Hands off!" on each side, as it were. The attitude of the Examiner goes far to confirm this widely credited rumor.

SAN FRANCISCO advices state that shipments of green fruit to the East are larger than those of any previous year. Twenty carloads, on an aver age, are started out every day, and nearly a hundred carloads are constantly rushing eastward on various parts of the transcontinental route Between three and four hundred carloads have reached the New York market alone so far, and twenty-four expedited special fruit trains have gone East over the Central route by passenger train time this season Every day there are several carloads taken East by regular passenger trains and several carloads more are sent East daily by freight trains. Yet the California fruit industry is, as yet, in its infancy. Within ten years every one of these carloads will be represented by a train load.

THE WORK OF THE TWO CONVEN

The Democrats of the State in o vention assembled have issued their programme, excepting some of the minor offices. The issue is joined between the two parties and comparisons are now in order.

For Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, respectively, the Democrats have nominated Messrs. E. B. Pond of San Francisco, and R. F. Del Valle of Los Angeles. These are, we are free to admit, as strong men as the Democrats could have selected from the material before them. At the same time, they are men whom our own nominees can afford to meet on equal terms, without fear, asking no favors and with every confidence of success.

Mayor Pond is a cold-blooded man, of admitted rectitude of conduct, but possessed of no personal magnetism, and lacking the power to inspire warm friendships. He is undoubtedly strong in San Francisco, especially among the mercantile and capitalist classes, although on the third ballot-the one preceding the final vote-he only received thirty-four out of a total of one hundred and forty-three votes, as against forty-seven which were cast by that city for Markham, in the Republican convention. Against this may be placed, as more than a set-off, Markham's great strength in Southern California. Pond is said to be strong in the counties. So is Markham, and the latter's remarkable power as a vote-winner will render stronger before election day.

As to the second place on the ticket, Del Valle is a Native Son; so is Reddick; Del Valle, it is claim will draw a large Spanish vote; Red-dick will draw the more numerous vote of the foothill mining belt. So that it will be seen from a materialistic point of view, regarding the political field as a chess-board, the Republican position is more than a good one.

Turning from practical politics and looking at the principles involved, as set forth in the two platforms, we find still less cause for jubilation on the part of the Democrats. The Democratic platform contains a large number of planks, many of which are perfectly acceptable to any good Republican, or to any good American citizen, for that matter. Such, for instance, are those in relation to silver, the Chinese question, the improve-ment of rivers, eight hours' labor, the restriction of trusts, pools, combines and monopolies, and to irrigation of our arid lands. The Democrats cannot get up any fight with us on these questions, and where they do come to an issue with us they are unquestion-ably in the wrong, and so admitted to be by a large majority of the people of the country. Take, for instance, the L dge Election Bill, a measure specially devised to guarantee the free exercise of the franchise to all voters in the South. The California Democrate say they don't like it, nor does the Solid South like it. But it is a just measure, all the same, if the Constitu-tion of the United States is just.

As to the Australian ballot system the Republicans have befriended it throughout the country while the Dem-perats, as a rule, opposed it.

The "sumptuary legislation" plank is a declaration against the regulation of the liquor traffic. The Republican party believes in a reasonable regulation of the traffic, and is willing to meet the Democrats on this ground. State division is not a live question.

As to the election of the Superinten dent of State Printing by the people, to which the Democrats have given the importance of a separate plank, and to the fostering of the "wine-growing (!)" industry, no wicked Republicans a as far as we are aware-lying in wait to defeat either object.

The weakest plank in the whole platform is that which declares forty-five cents on the hundred dollars to be a sufficient State tax, thus going five cents lower than the Republican platform. This, coming from the party which saddled us, last session, with the biggest State tax in the history of the United States, is a piece of arrant demagogy so transparent that it must provoke a smile even from those way back Democrats who boast that they imbibed their political principles with their mothers' milk, but who have never assimilated sufficient strong food to enable them to find out why they are Democrats. Voters will be apt to prefer a fifty-cent tax from a party with a good record rather than to the chance of forty-five cents from a party which tried hard to bankrupt the State at the last session. The Democrats have not yet completed their ticket, and we defer comment upon it, as a whole, until tomorrow. Whatever they may do, however, cannot certainly now give them a fighting advantage over us. consider the great strength of our ticket, in connection with the fact that immig ation to the State, during the past two years, has been largely Republican, we are justified in feeling confident that nothing less than inexcusable indifference on the part of Republicans can prevent us from carrying California this year, not mere margin, but by a comfortable majority, such as will settle difinitely the political complexion of the State for a long time to come.

THE nomination by the Democratic State Convention of our young fellow citizen and Native Son, Reginaldo F. Del Valle, for the office of Lieutenant Governor, was a deserved compliment to the man, to the section and to his race, which will, we are sure, be fully appreciated in Los Angeles and throughout the Southern country. THE TIMES, a Republican paper, takes pleasure in commending Seffor De Valle for his ability, integrity and worth as a gentleman, and will what it can in a proper way to elect his opponent.

COL. MARKHAM was handsomely re ceived by the people of Santa Bar-bars, upon the arrival there of the steamer Santa Rosa, yesterday. Despite the generous rivalry of his own townsmen, the enthusiastic Pasade-nians, to be the first to do him honor upon his return to the South, the gallant Republicans and good people of the Channel City got in first. A large concourse were as embled at the what upon the arrival of the steamer, an the distinguished citizen was excerted through the town with music and reng, and spent some four hours at the Arlington, where a public reception was held. It was altogether spirited affair.

THE ARMY HEADQUARTERS.

It is true that the removal of the rmy headquarters from Los Angeles would be a serious loss to the city, both financially and socially, and we hope that some means may yet be found to retain the headquarters here. As we have previously shown, how-ever, the removal would not entail so heavy a financial loss as some persons assert. Statements have been frequently made during the past few days that the loss of the headquarters would cost Los Angeles $200,000 a month. For a city of 50,000 population this would indeed be a severe blow-if true. It would mean really fifty dollars a year for every person in the city, or twenty dollars a month for each family. This is, however, fortunately not the case. The figures referred to include the contracts let for the supply of provisions-hay, grain, coal, etc.-for the army posts in Arizona and New Mexico. Proposals for these supplies are always advertised and let to the highest bidder, who, after giving the nec essary bonds, gets the contract, whether he resides in Arizona, New it is not necessary to make it out worse than the facts warrant. The figures mentioned above for a month would probably amply cover the annual financial loss. At the same time, we in common with the rest of our citizens, would be very sorry to see the change made. For many reasons, Los Angeles appears to be a more suitable point Santa Fé, but the military powers that be, have their own methods about these things, and are not easily influenced by the wishes of the gen eral public. As already mentione us, there is one person, at present in Los Angeles, who could probably do more to influence the authorities than any one else in these parts. This is Gen. Grierson, who will shortly leave for Washington, and who is, we understand, willing to use his influence on our behalf, if requested to do so.

NINETY-SIX per cent. is a pretty heavy rate of interest, yet that is what was asked and obtained in the New York money market yesterday. The stringency in the market there was greater than it has been since the panic of May, 1884. There is no call for special sympathy with these Wall street gamblers in their speculative operations, but, unfortunately, they usually drag thousands of good, hard-working business men down with them when they fall.

THE Chronicle was again left, as a prophet. Its San José dispatch, on midnight preceding the nominations. made Coleman out to be an almost sure winner, while the Examiner's dispatches prophesied that Pond would be nominated soon after the convention

After a thorough course of instruction at the schools of Santa Barbara and at bome, Reginaldo entered the Santa Clara college and in 1873 graduated from that well-known institution with high honors. After a course of legal studies in San Francisco, he was admitted to the bar of the Supreme Court of the State in 1887, and entered upon the practice of his profession in Los Angeles.

Mexico, or California. It is a question of cheapness of production and freights, in which the location of, the headquarters cuts no figure. While headquarters were at Prescott, Los Angeles bidders secured many of the Countracts, and since they have been in Los Angeles, Arizona and New Mexico bidders have secured many.

The removal of the headquarters would certainly be a serious loss, but it is not necessary to make it out works.

In 1879 after a practically unanimous nomination by the Country Convention of Los Angeles, he was elected by a large misjority to the Legislature and Assemblyman from this district. In 1880 he was chosen as one of the Presidential electors on the Democratic ticket for California. The Local Democracy Enthusiastic

In spite of the fact that the delegation which went north to San José s few days ago was nearly solid for Coleman, the local Democracy held a great celebration last night over the nominaion of Pond. The news was received about noon of the nomination of Pond and Del Valle, which practically determined the character of the ticket During all the afternoon the street corners were crowded with little knots of men talking it over. It appeared that most of the Coleman men must have gone morth, for the nomination of Pond was generally commended and that of Del Valle was received with very gen eral enthusiasm.

Republicans generally admitted, with the confident frankness of those who know they are all right and perfectly safe anyway, that the ticket was likely to be a strong one and would take work to defeat it. work to defeat it.

In the evening an ex-tempore ratification was held. It was started by the Iroquois Club, who issued forth from its wigwam on First street with a band of music, several banners and a pretty fair contingent of followers. Presently the Jackson Club joined in and the Pond Club and members of various other organizations of the "unterrified."

The procession marched through the principal streets shooting off fre-works of all kinds, in a reckless fashion and yelli g themselves hoarse. They finally brought up at the Court House steps, where a large crowd had assembled. G. W. Glowner called the assembled. G. W. Glowner called the meeting to order and suggested Capt. Mackey as chairman. He took the chair and made a few opening remarks. Col. Ayers of the Herald, was then called for. He paid a lowing tribute to the head of the ticket, a man for whom he had a profound admiration. He also commented on the wisdom displayed in the nomination of Lieutenant Governor. Calvin Edgerton followed, and after him came C. R. Reddick, M. F. Stiles and W. A. Ryan. When the crowd had tired of standing still so long, the procession was resumed. A visit was first paid to the Herald office and Col. Ayers was again called upon.

NEW YORK. Aug. 21.-Chief Sargent this morning said a meeting of the Federation of Railroal Men would be held at Terre Haste Sturday with the undoubted result that a strike on the entire Vanderbilt system would be ordered, as he and his three associates had endorsed the action of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor. He thotoughly believed the Supreme Council of the Federation would sustain it. He also said the action of Webb last night in adhering so family the the supreme Council of the Federation of Webb last night in adhering so family the supreme Supremental Su in adhering so firmly to the stand taken rendered the action they had taken necessary. Webb's arbitrary methods and the fact that he utterly refused to arbitrate the situation made it useless to deal with him any longer.

WEBB APPEARS CONFIDENT. Vice-President Webb this morning said he did not believe the impending strike would be nearly so gigantic as the Federation of Labor would have people believe. Webb did not doubt the Supreme Council of Federation would call out the men, but he was of the opinion that the number who would respond would not be so great after all.

WILL HAVE A CONSULTATION. Secretary Hayes of the Executive Board, announced this afternoon that Monday next at Albany a meeting of District 246 would be held, at which the Executive Board will be present, for the purpose of consultation. At this meeting each of the local assemblies will send from three to five delegates, and there will be present from 600 to 700 members from that section of the State lying adjacent to the Central road from New York to Buffalo.

LOOKING AFTER HIS INTERESTS. Webb, late in the afternoon, said. relative to the charge made by Pow-derly that he and the Executive Board their arrival here, had been shadowed by detectives, that unless he had taken every lawful means to protect the interests of his road and kept himself informed as to what the members of the Board had been doing, he would be wholly unfit to remain one-half an hour in his present position.

PREPARED FOR THE BATTLE.

PREPARED FOR THE BATTLE. This day has been to the labor leaders here like a pause in a battle, or rather say, it has been to them a day rather say, it has been to them a day of preparation after the declaration and before the set-to. Never before has Powderly been personally in the heat of a contest like the one believed to be coming. He never yet has ordered a strike, and feels some pride in the record of peace which he feels is his. There is little doubt, however, about his determination in this case. His men say he is here to stay and the Executive committee says its headquarters during the strike, if one is ordered will be in this city. It is clear that Powderly and his cabinet intend, if the strike is made general, that the responsibility shall be brought just as close as possible to the rank and file. This purpose underlies the orders of the board to Master Workman Lee to convene his District Assembly, also the order which has gone up the river to Albany to convene their District Assembly Monday. At these meetings the local assembly will voice their disposition as to a general strike, and the result will be that local assembly will voice their disposition as to a general strike, and the result will be that a fair concensus of the opinion among the fine swill be had. The Federation's supreme body will not meet till Saturday and will probably communicate its determination to the Knights here that night or Sunday.
The Albany District Assembly, whose action will be influential in the evident plan laid out by Powderly to make the men deciare the strike general, does not meet till Monday, as stated. A fair conclusion from the facts and circumstances is that a grand strike, if it

In the meantime the General Executive Board having been apprised of the condition of affairs, sent its member, J. J. Holland, to New York with instructions to use all possible efforts to bring about an amicable adforts to bring about an amicable adjustment of the difficulty. On his arrival in New York, Holland, after concrence with the representatives of the District Assembly, in the course of which he obtained a full knowledge of District Assembly, in the course of which he obtained a full knowledge of the trouble from the standpoint of the men, waited upon Vice-President Webb. Holland stated to Webb that he had called upon him to endeavor to adjust the unpleasantness existing between the Company and its Knights of Labor employés. Webb denied there was any trouble existing between the Company and its employés. Holland told him he, as a member of the General Executive Board of the Knights of Labor, had come at the request of the men, made through the organization to which they belonged, District Assembly 246. Webb brusquely declared that he would not discuss the matter with any one not an employé of the company, and this closed the interview. All be discharged, unless they forfeited their manhood and abandoned their privileges as citizens of a free country by renouncing their rights to join their fellows in an organization calculated to protect their just rights without intrud ng upon those of others, the District Executive Board had no alternative but to order a strike which, they d'd. The public is already acquainted with the details of the affair and repetition is scarcely necessary. The most earnest and sincere efforts of the general officers to secure a hearing for the discharged men were unavailing. ored to have the matter arbitrated or investigated. Tourcey was emphatic in his refusal. On the afternoon of that day Webb was visited by the same gentlemen and he reiterated what Tourcey had said in the morning It was suggested to him that disinterested parties hear and determine. It was also suggested that during the investigation the strike be declared off and the investigation be proceeded with. That was refused. Then the following proposition was made by me to Webb: Could you not sit down with me in the presence of the men me in the presence of the men who were discharged and allow me to question them in your presence, so that I might know the facts and be better able to arrive at a decision? This Webb emphatically refused. Devlin then said. "Do I understand you to assume that the public and the employes have no rights that you are bound to consider, and do you look upon this matter simply as though the railroads were your own property; becaue if you take that view of it, there is no need of our saying anything further."

Webb hesitated and took refuge in silence. The public may have formed an erroneous impression of the position of the Knights in this controversy. We do not pretend to dictate to the company that it shall not discharge employes, but in all fairness the discharged man should be told why he is dismissed.

During the session of the last State Legislature the Knights of Labor of New York were active in the passing of the Weekly Pay Bill. The committee of the Knights representing the employes of the New York Central were faced in the Legislature committee room at Albany by the attorneys of the railways and brow-beaten, questioned and terrorized. Some members of that committee, who were at the time employed by the New York Central, were discharged without cause, or rather without any given cause. There exists no doubt in the mind of that committee that these men were singled out for endeavoring to secure the passage of the above mentioned law. After thoroughly investigating the causes which led to the strike, and after making every effort in their power to induce the company to arbitrate or submit to investigation by impartial men the questions at issue, namely, whether the men were discharged because they were Knights of Labor and for the purpose of destroying their organization, as they believe or maintain, or for just cause and proper reasons, as the officials of the company allege, the General Executive Board have by a unanimous vote determined to stand by the men, who, whether their strike is opportune or not had Already hundreds of families have come to Colorado from Western Kansas, where they report that corn, wheat and oats that were planted in some of the driest soil still remain in the ground or have been eaten by birds. Commissioner Raum said he had borrowed $12,000 upon the endorsement of Geo. O. Lemon, and renewed the notes from time to time. The refrigerator company was organized last January, and was composed of men of high standing. He never gave priority to any claims for Lemon or any other attorney. Witness presented Lemon's letter to the committee and it was read. It enclosed 30 complete pension cases, dated November 16th last, and expressed the hope that the bureau would begin the practice of considering such complete cases immediately. The letter was referred to the deputy commissioner for report, and he reported against the plan. Therefore witness made no order, written or verbal, for taking up Lemon's cases in advance of the regular order. Raum said after further examination and consideration of the matter, he on December 231 issued an order concerning completed files, on which were put cases that seemed to be most complete and ready for adjudication. This had the effect of greatly expediting the work of the office. Capt. Lemon had nothing to do, he asserted, with the preparation of this or any subsequent order.

Representative Cooper was requested by the committee to return and resume connection with the case, which he did and the committee adjourned.

BIG FISH WITH HANDS.

ENCOUNTER OFF HATTERAS WITH MARINE MONSTERS.

Capt. Gheen Tells a Thrilling Yarn About an Adventure Along the Coast-Fish That Refused to Be Taken by Means of ooks-One Is Finally Caught.

Capt. Gheen, of the schooner Abby Gheen, strange things off Cape Hatteras of voyage to this port. He does not claim to have seen the sea serpent, but he did see number of monsters of the deep that put all well credited sea stories in the shade. The captain is a man whose veracity is not doubted. The captain brought his vessel from Rio de Jasfeiro, and it was when twenty miles off Cape Hatteras that he ran into a school of sea monsters such as he had never before seen.

The nonsters were sighted by one of the crew. They were nearly a hundred yards ahead of the vessel and were apparently rushing toward her. When first seen by the sailors they thought the ship was running into a floating island, some of which are often seen at sea. They soon changed their minds, however, when they got closer their minds, however, when they governous and saw a school of big fish that no one on board could recognize as having seen before. The school opened to let the ship pass, and then at once closed in and followed her. They floated all around her and greatly impeded her progress.

Although the vessel was going at a speed of seven knots an hour, the monsters fol-lowed along in its wake, and several more lowed along in its wake, and several more daring ones seemed to clutch hold of the vessel's side and let themselves be carried along. After they had followed the boat for several hours the crew began to grow uneasy as to their safety, and called upon the captain, who heretofore had not been aware of the chase.

SURROUNDED BY THE MONSTERS. He sent for his gluss and going aft made a survey of the school, which he describes as resembling a low, rocky island. He said they were larger than the average sized sharks, being about ten feet in length and varying from the size of a bucket to a tub in circumference. They seemed to be running a race and were having a great hattle among themselves.

The boat was searched for weapons, and soon the deck was covered with har-poons, boat hooks, fish hooks and every other kind of implement used in catching

The boat hooks were first used in their attempt to catch the fish, but unsuccess-fully. The fish seemed to know what was needed of them, and they used their meded of them, and they used their "hands" to protect themselves from being caught. Groups of two and three of the monsters would grab the rod of the boat hook and pull it away. Eight of these hooks were taken from the sallors. The arms of the fish were about six feet long, and Cart. Gheen. said Capt. Gheen.

They told the captain that they thought the aline would never reach port. Some rushed to the foresatle and others to the captain's cabin in their endeavors to escape from the supposed "Jonahs."

"Jonahs."
By this time the fish had become more daring, and would swim alongside the boat and grab the sail tenions and traces. At last the captain became so exasperated at the men that he ordered them to cast the lines which they use in catching drum and sturgeon. This the crew reluctantly did. The lines were baited with huge pieces of codfish and east over the side. They were handled by the fish the same as they handled the boathook. They would grab the line with their "hands," and try to tear them apart, and if one was not successful

"All the time we were trying to capture one of them," said the captain, "they would keep up a yell that sounded like the bark of a coyote. At last the men were successful. They had, indeed, caught one of the ful. They had, indeed, caught one of the fish, and they began to haul him in. When the remaining fish saw their captured brother they made great efforts to rescue him. They grabbed at him while the men were hauling him up along the side of the boat, and once or twice one of them succeded in getting his 'claws' over the fore rail. At last we had him on deck, and with a higher half as the crow gave out. such a hilarious yell as the crew gave out at that happy moment and the scene on the deck is indescribable.

A MONSTER CAPTURED. "The captured monster floundered all over the deck, but his maneuvers were quickly stopped by the use of an ax; we soon cut his head off. In another hour we had caught two more of the huge monsters but these must have been young ones, as they were a great deal smaller in size than they were a great deal smaller in size than the rest, and probably did not know how to evade the hook.

"This was a strange monster," said Capt. Gheen. "The body was round and about the size of a small barrel, and the back was covered with thick scales, resembling the scales of a drumfish, while the belly resembled the hide of a porpoise. The head was about as large as an ordinary sized bucket, and was horrifying to gaze upon. The eyes were as large as a dollar and greenish in color. They made my blood run cold when I saw them.

We all held a consultation and decided to have the fish cooked. One of them was carefully cleaned and cut into huge chunks, and I ordered the cook to prepare it for supper. I thought that they would not be fit to eat and ordered the others thrown fit to eat and ordered the others thrown overboard, which was done. But they weren't in the water ten seconds before the others, which were still following us, began a battle over which should have the feast. They grabbed them with their 'hands,' and in the battle a number of others were killed, and in their wild attempt to get a neal they chased after one of their dead number, and they were lost from our viewing a short time, and we continued our voyage unmolested.

"But to go back to the eating of the fish. Why, when the pot stew was served up no one could tell it from a mess of boiled codfish, and when boiled by itself it tasted like shad."

Don't Toy with Your Eyes. Many people are troubled with itching eyes and try all sorts of washes. The eye is once if the most valuable organs of the body. Unfortunately for careless humanity it is also one of the most delicate. It does not pay to trifle with it. The best way to treat itching is to use a cool, weak salt water wash every few hours. If this does no good go to a physician who makes a specialty of eye diseases.—Exchange.

To lie at length and watch the swallows pass,
As bilthe and restful as the quiet grass,

And I shall lie beneath these swaying trees,
Still listening thus; haply at last to selze

New York's Potter's Field. The Potter's field was different from what I expected. It had nothing revolting about it, but was peaceful and even a pretty place, with plenty of grass and trees and birds around it. The process of burial is to dig a grave fifty feet long by fitteen wide which will contain successive layers. and birds around it. The process of burial is to dig a grave fifty feet long by fifteen wide, which will contain successive layers of coffins (white pine "shells" twenty-two inches wide at the chest lying end to end and numbered from one to twenty-five and then back from twenty-five to fifty. The numbers are cut deep into the lid of each shell and then carefully marked in a book of record with descriptions, etc., appended. In this way it is easy to identify and disinter a buried body, and the overseer told me that he had last week dug up a body that had been buried eleven years, and not only could identify it readily, but that the printing on the card nalled against the head of the box was almost as plain as when buried. Very nearly 70,000 persons have been buried in the Hart's Island Pottor's field, and of this number nearly three-fourths were children under 7 years of age. This tells its own sad story of the neglect and misery that are the inheritance of the children of the poor.—New York Cor. Philadelphia Record.

Newspaper Routes Are Valuable.
The fact that you regularly receive and pay for your paper is worth to the carrier, in the form of good will, $2 if you live in Atlanta, Boston, Cincinnati, Chicago, Cleveland, Louisville, or St. Paul; $3 if in Pittsburg, San Francisco, or St. Louis, and $3 if in New York, Philadelphia, or Washington. Carriers deliver 60,000 copies of The Philadelphia Public Ledger. Habits of the Horse.

The schoolboy who wrote that the horse was a noble animal was right. He might have added that the horse knows his business. A horse knows all about himself, and if he had some of the faculties which men have the horse could cure his own all-ments. There are some horses that never get off their feet. I have known horses that would stand for months. Standing seems to be the natural attitude of the horse. He sleeps in that position; it is a very rare thing to find a horse sleeping in any other position. A horse that is sickly seldom if ever lies down, particularly if his disease is in the luning. So you see that the habits of the horse, in, some respects at least, are entirely different from the habits of a man. When you work all day you rest by stretching yourself at length on a bed or couch; you don't stand up. The horse, as I said before, does. When you are sick you go to bed, but the horse remains standing.—Interview in Chicago Tribune. Habits of the Horse.

An Historic Tree.

An Historic Tree.

The form most commonly taken by the tree myth is that some legislative act took place under the branches. The Parliament Oak is so called because King John in 1212 is said to have assembled his barons beneath it and there debated with them the revolt of the Welsh. To make the myth still more impressive Edward I held a council in 1296 under the same tree for the same purpose. The Major Cale he the same purpose. The Major Oak, be-lieved to be one of the oldest in England, is another about which traditions cling. And indeed the old tree has seen some history. King John, it is said, rested un-der it, Robin Hood slept beneath its shelder it, Room Hood siept beneath its shelter and the Crusaders from England camped under it. It is 32 feet in circumference just above the roots. The branches spread out 240 feet across. The trunk has been hollow for an immemorial time, having a cavity of 7 feet in diameter and 10 feet high. But the old tree is still healthy and green.—St. Louis Post-Disnatch. green.-St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

New York, Aug. 21.—The stock market today was decidedly active and very weak, resulting in material losses in everything traded in. Bears, by the sli of labor troubles and tight money have at last succeeded in forcing liquidations of long accounts, and stocks today were thrown over at a lively rate. Money was loaned at the highest figures known in years, probably since the May panie of 1884, and large premiums were exacted for its use over the day.
At 2 o'clock when the market reached the lowest figures, a report was received from Washington that the Treasury would probably take some action to relieve the stringency in the money market and a sharp raily took place. Close after the raily the market was firm, but in many cases close to market was firm, but in many Noisy Boys. Four young lads on a lark in North Pasadena made life miserable for the good people in attendance at the church social Tuesday evening. With an old bass-drum and other like barbarous instruments, and yelling like veritable hoodlums, they treated the citizens to a genuine old-fashioned charivari. Boys should know that they live in a country governed by law, and that the laws reach down and affect them the same as "grown-ups." Their names are liable to be published.

It is bound to grow in any shape which pleases a capricious fate, subject to no rule or possibility of restriction. A wig that once belonged to Sterne, the great English writer, was sold at public auction in London a few years ago for $1,050. In this day of fast living and hurry of business our nerves give out. We go to the doctor for a remedy. He gives us stimulants; for if he gives anything it is a stimulant. "The nerves need strengthening;" he says. Yes, we know that, and long for something soothing and restful; but when one looks over the storehouse of drugs he does not find anything that will give the desired effect. It is not there. There are remedies, however, that seem to serve the purpose, but the relief gained is at the expense of our vitality.

If you will turn to kind nature and observe her simplest laws, how quickly the tired nerves will be quieted. Absolute rest. How few understand in what that consists. If they keep quiet they think they must

How few understand in what that consists. If they keep quiet they think they must eat often, and thus they foil the very object they were seeking as a remedy. A tired stomach can never give strength to tired nerves; but give that organ long intervals of rest between meals, give it time to relieve the overloaded veins and carry off the effecte matter that has clogged the system, and the terrible nervous flying-topieces sensation we are in such dread of will soon disappear.—St. Louis Magazine.

It is important for all persons to be instructed that the nose has three highly nocessary functions related to breathing, and for which it is delicately adapted, besides those of an opening for air and a detective of bad air, viz.: to warm, to moisten, and to filter the air which it admits, and that neither of these functions can be performed by the mouth. However warm or cold the atmospheric temperature the air is brought almost, if not quite, to the temperature of the blood in passing through the nose alone, and even before reaching the pharynx, or cavity back of the nose; the pharyux, or cavity back of the nose; that however dry the external air may be it is completely saturated with moisture by passing through the nose.—Hall's Jour-nal of Health.

The Music of the Chinese.

Have the Chinese ever exerted any influence on the progress of music? At first sight it would seem to be impossible for a nation delighting in a series of what seems to us to be dissonances to have had any connection with an art so harmonious as our own. But this is a rather seeming difference than a real one. If music be the art of exciting the emotions by combinations of sound, then the Chinese discords must also be ranked as music, for they certainly do arouse the deepest emo-The Music of the Chinese cords must also be ranked as music, for they certainly do arouse the deepest emotions in the Celestials.

The ancient Chinese knew far agore of the principles of music than the civilized Greeks or Romans even, but as usual with the discoveries of this self isolated race, the founding of a system of musical laws did not benefit the world any more than themselves. Thus it was with printing, with the compass and many other of the ancient Chinese inventions and discoveries. Yet it is probable that the Chinese were the first nation to adopt and formulate a system of notation.—Boston Musical Herald.

DRAGGED TO DEATH.

Horrible End of Young Fred Harwood.

A CURIOUS AND CRANKY CLOCK.

Boys Who Paint Things a Brilliant Red - Brief Notes - Church Troubles-Personal Men-

The friends of A. P. Harwood of Ontario will be sorry to hear of the sudden death of his son Fred. He was driving some cattle home from pasture, riding a horse. Whether the animal became unmanageable is not known, but young Harwood fell and, catching one foot in the saddle, was dragged about half a mile before the horse stopped. He only lived about two hours after the accident. The funeral took place yes-terday afternoon at his home in Ontario. Young Harwood was 17 years old and has been preparing for

A Clock Problem.

There is no electrical connection, hence electricity has nothwhi readjust themseives and point to the correct time. There is no electrical connection, hence electricity has noth-ing to do with its mysterious move-ments. The spectator is baffled to ac-count for the force that moves the hands with such precision. Will the gravitation or revolution of the earth account for it? It is worth studying on. See it.

Church Troubles.

A prominent member of the Presbyterian Church says, in reply to the item which appeared in Tuesday's issue of The Times, stating that a letter referred to by Dr. Ormiston in his statement on Sunday last, was an individual and not an official letter, and that the other members of the Session did not endorse the statements contained in it: "The letter in question was written by the clerk of the Session with the knowledge of the Session with the knowledge of the Session with the referred to the church lies with the Session, who has an utter disregard of the laws of the Presbyterian Church and the expressed wishes of the congregation have, in the words of a prominent clergyman, disgraced the church." ter referred to by Dr. Ormiston in his

H. H. Suesserott was yesterday awarded, by the City Schoo Board, the contract to furnish the school supplies of Pasadena City district for the coming year, his being the lowest bid.

Those members of the Markham Guards who desire to attend the reception to our honored townsman, Col. Markham, this evening, are requested to meet at the City Clerk's office, at 70 'clock, there to receive badges and form to attend in a body. No part of the uniform will be worn.

Salt and Vinegar for Dog Bites.

I have been litten by dogs repeatedly, once severely. A pet dog of a neighbor's was very sick, and I was attempting to relieve it. It bis me in the left thumb, just below the nail. That member became black as far down as the wrist. It remained so until the nail came off. The owner talked of hydrophobia and said that the dog had not tasted water for two weeks. Had I been afraid I should no doubt have taken nervous fits and died. The verdict would have been hydrophobia. But I simply applied a solution of salt and vinegar—a little more vinegar than salt—washed the wound with it, tied a clean rag around the thumb, keeping it saturated well with the solution, and moved the rag so that a fresh part covered the wound at intervals. This remedy was once applied to my wrist by a colored woman in the south for a snake bite. My arm was then black, hard and painful. The remedy acted like a charm. In two hours the discoloration had disappeared, and with it the pain, and only the needle mark where the fang had entered was visible.—Cor. New York Triouns.

Difference Between Sand. There is little difference between the sand of the sea and that of the desert. There is none in formation, for both are composed of quartz. The sand of the sea composed of quartz. The sand of the sea is due to the transport of the material by rivers and grinding by the waves on the seashore. In the Sahara and other African regions, as well as in Central Asia, the daily range of temperature is very great.—Chatter.

CATARRH. Throat Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption successfully treated by M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

Probably no system of practice ever em-ployed has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Brenchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and he often expresses his astonishment as his remarkable tendency to contract fresh cold. Indeed he declares that he is scarcely free from one cold before he kees scorcely free from one cold before hakes suother, and he is always exceedingly state to the scarce of the cold before he hakes suother, and he is always exceedingly states of the state of surveyies to him.
